“Everyone Helps, Everyone Wins:
How Absolutely Anyone Can
Pitch In, Help Out, Give Back and Make the World a Better Place”

DAVID LEVINSON is the Founder & Executive Director of Big Sunday. Founded in 1999, Big Sunday’s mission is to build community through community service. Their volunteers come from all kinds of neighborhoods, and work in all sorts of neighborhoods, too. The idea is that everyone has some way that they can help somebody else. Last year on Big Sunday Weekend, the group gave away more than 85 truckloads of clothes, books, food, furniture, musical instruments, luggage, toys and other items. David Levinson has been awarded the “Governor and First Lady’s Medal for Service: Nonprofit Leader of the Year,” State of California, 2009; “St. Michael’s Community Outreach Angel Award,” St. Michaels Church, 2008; “Fair Shake Award,” Western Center on Law and Poverty, 2007; and “Inspire,” Temple Israel of Hollywood, 2004 among others. Last year on Big Sunday Weekend, 50,000 volunteers turned out—some as individuals, others with their families, still others as part of a class, church, synagogue, mosque, business or club—to lend a hand at more than 500 different projects from San Diego to Solvang, making Big Sunday Weekend one of the largest regional community service events in America.

FREE to the public!
